

Churchill Tells of Growing Allied Might And Unity

Cheers Greet Prime Minister In Debate Start

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE
LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill presented to Britain today a picture of growing allied might and unity and demanded that parliament vote confidence in his government.

Against his frank admission that bad news has come from the Pacific ocean battlefield, he told the house of commons:

United States troops which have landed in northern Ireland are only the vanguard of more to come.

United States fighter planes will help defend Britain against air assault.

United States bombers will join the RAF in bombing Germany; Considerable reinforcements have reached the Malayan front in the past week.

"We are taking many measures with the United States to increase the security of Australia and New Zealand, sending reinforcements, arms and equipment by the best routes."

"It is because I see the light gleaming behind the clouds and broadening upon our path," he said at the end of his candid report of the good and evil in Britain's war fortunes, "that I make so bold now as to demand a declaration of confidence of the house of commons as an additional weapon in the army of the united nations."

Cheers Are Frequent
At the close of the war leader's speech, the house of commons began debate on Britain's war direction which Churchill will wind up with a brief concluding speech this week.

The thunderous cheers that greeted his one hour and 24 minute accounting left no doubt how the house of commons will vote when it finally puts the question of confidence to a test.

"We shall presently regain naval command of the Pacific and begin to establish effective superiority in the air," the prime minister predicted.

He pledged that the Malay peninsula and Singapore would be defended to the last inch and said he doubted that Japan would attempt an invasion of Australia—"a very ambitious overseas operation in the precarious and certainly limited time before the British and American navies regain, as they must regain, ultimate command of the Pacific."

"There is no question of regarding the Pacific war as a secondary operation," he added.

"The United States navy is linked in the most intimate union with the admiralty both in the Atlantic and the Pacific."

Is Fully Confident
Although Churchill said he "must confess to feeling the weight of war upon me even more than in the tremendous summer days of 1940," he spoke with obvious confidence and appeared to be in high good humor.

He told one of the largest audiences ever to pack a commons session that "I feel the broadening swell of victory and liberation bearing us and all tortured peoples onward safely to the final goal."

Seats for the senate were at such a premium that several members had to sit on the floor of a low platform at one end of the chamber.

From her customary seat in the gallery, Mrs. Churchill leaned forward to listen intently to her husband's speech and his son, Randolph, in army uniform, sat among his fellow Conservative members.

The prime minister divulged broad new plans for unifying was Henley, Pete Cramer and Donald Smith, 126; Tommy Sanders and Harry Cone, 135; Robert Parker, Billy Slagel, and Elmer Bills, 147; Ralph Harrington and probably "Dutch" Blankenship, 160; Jimmy Woody, heavyweight, Eddie Cook will be matched with a 98 pound Boonville boy.

Loss Of British Ship, Barham, Is Revealed

Had Been Kept Secret Two Months By Admiralty

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The sinking of the battleship Barham, 31,000-ton veteran of Britain's navy, in the Mediterranean last November 25, was announced by the admiralty today after it had kept the loss a secret for two months to cheat the enemy of any profit from knowledge of its blow.

The loss of the Barham, which the axis long had claimed as sunk in the Mediterranean, cut Britain's capital ships to 13.

She had 15 when she entered the war and since has added three but five have been lost—the battleships Prince of Wales, Royal Oak and Barham and the battle cruisers Repulse and Hood.

The admiralty said the Barham's commander, Captain G. C. Cooke, was lost, but that Vice Admiral H. D. Pridham-Wippell, second in command of the Mediterranean fleet, whose flag she was flying, was saved.

How Many Lost Undisclosed
How many others of her crew of 1,100 or 1,200 were lost was not disclosed.

Explaining the admiralty's secrecy over the loss, the communique said:

"Next of kin of casualties were informed but loss of the ship was not announced since it was clear at that time that the enemy did not know she had been sunk and it was important to make certain dispositions before loss of this ship was made public."

"The German radio has from time to time made statements with the obvious intention of endeavoring to discover whether a battleship of the Queen Elizabeth class which they claimed to have hit with torpedoes had, in fact, been sunk."

"This information has been denied to the enemy for the reason given but, as they are now aware that H. M. S. Barham was sunk, her loss can be announced."

Barely Missed Harbor Bombing

Sister Martha Mary, of the religious order of St. Joseph, daughter of John S. McGaw, of 417 West Fourth street, who is stationed in Hawaii, missed the bombing at Pearl Harbor by minutes, according to a letter received by her father and sisters Monday.

In her letters, one dated December 15, others dated December 26, she states that she goes to Seaside Barracks every Sunday morning to teach catechism. She had just passed Pearl Harbor, and was between that place and the Seaside barracks when the first bombing occurred on December 7, she wrote, and it took many hours to make her way back to the convent.

Evidently blackouts are the usual thing in Hawaii as she writes that there is no need for light fixtures, so far as they are concerned they might just as well be taken out.

Want Reports About Trucks

The state highway traffic advisory committee, last year, wrote to all truck owners in Pettis, and other counties, sending a questionnaire to obtain information on all trucks to be used in the event there is a war emergency. A letter to the local Civilian Defense Council states that 86 Pettis county trucks have not returned their reports, and they ask owners who have not done so, to comply at once.

The Council of Defense therefore asks those truck owners in the county who have not returned the questionnaire to do so, and if they have lost their cards and blanks, duplicates may be obtained at the headquarters of the Council, the Chamber of Commerce offices.

In the event owners are not certain whether they have made their report a list on the 86 owners is in the Chamber of Commerce office and may be checked by those in doubt.

Meeting of Red Cross Class Postponed

The Wednesday evening Red Cross class held at the court house, and taught by Mrs. Dora McCabe, has been postponed from this week, until Wednesday, February 4.

District Boy Scouts Officers Announced

Chairmen For Six Operating Groups Chosen

Dr. Lawrence Geiger of Sedalia, chairman of the Sedalia District of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced the following district officers for 1942. L. N. Satorius and Judge J. E. Smith of Sedalia have been selected as vice-president and Frank Hanigan of Sedalia and H. S. Ramseyer of Smithton have been selected for district commissioners. Heading the six operating committees of the district are the following:

Advancement Committee—Rev. O. J. Rumpf, Sedalia—This committee supervises the Cubs and Scouts in their advancement from one rank to another, assists local committees in securing merit badge counselors, conduct boards of review to maintain high standards and holds courts of honor for the presentation of awards.

Camping and Activities Committee—Dr. C. H. Weaver, Sedalia—All camping and activities of the troops and packs of the district are under the general supervision of this committee. This includes summer camp at the council summer camp, camp maries, camporees and other short term camps, scouting demonstrations and community service projects, such as the waste paper campaigns.

Health and Safety—Loan Richardson, Sedalia—The objective of scouting is Health Through Knowledge and Safety Through Skill.

Matters of safety in camps, at meeting places and in other scout activities are guarded in the program of this committee, and health and safety education are promoted through the regular program of the troops and packs.

Organization and Extension—Rev. J. Fred King, Sedalia—The extension of scouting and cubbing to an ever increasing number of boys is the responsibility of this committee. At the present time there are in the district 63 scouts in troops located at Lake Ozarks, Tuscumbia, Iberia and Eldon. The objective of the committee is to have 117 members in nine units by June 31, or a net increase of 54 boys and 5 units.

Leadership Training—Ernest Baker, Sedalia—A training program to better fit leaders to carry on their responsibilities is carried on every year. During 1942 all interested adults will be encouraged to attend a session on the "Fundamentals of Scouting" and special courses will be held.

Finance Committee—Guy Callender, Sedalia—The council operates on the principle of one council, one program and one budget. The budget for the Lake of the Ozarks Council for 1942 is $13,092.80. No quotas are assigned to towns or districts, but each district, each community and each individual shares in the cost of maintaining the program in proportion to their ability and appreciation of the values of the movement.

Institutional representatives on the committee are: W. E. Bruce, Dr. Peabody, W. F. Schwenk, Dr. C. H. Weaver, Sedalia; Wallace Smiley, Houstonia; J. E. Smith, Ray Hunt, Sedalia; Roy

Democrat-Capital's Cooking School Attracts Throng

The Democrat-Capital invited women into its kitchen. They accepted the invitation, and this afternoon the Liberty theatre is crowded with several hundred women, attending the opening session of the Democrat-Capital cooking school, which will continue through Friday.

Mrs. George Thurn, home economist, who was so popular with cooking school audiences here two years ago is back again and received a hearty welcome today. In her gracious, capable way, she turned ingredients into delicious dishes ready to be served on the table, as the women watched.

"What suits Uncle Sam suits this newspaper, which is keeping step with the national nutrition program by saying 'Come into my kitchen for four days of culinary profit and neighborly enjoyment.'"

Actually this is a double-barreled invitation, since it includes the recognized food authority and homemaker consultant, Mrs. Thurn, and every reader of the newspaper. Yes—every reader from brides to grandmothers—will find a friendly welcome and food for thought at the timely cooking school, which will interpret today's nutrition problems in understandable language.

Plenty To Learn

"What can I learn at the cooking school?" some ask. That is a sensible challenge.

Down Two Jap Dive Bombers

Third Is Disabled By MacArthur's Philippine Forces

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Two American pursuit planes shot down two Japanese dive bombers and disabled a third in the Philippine islands in the past 24 hours.

In a communique telling of the war department said General Douglas MacArthur also reported that two of his motor torpedo boats engaged a formation of enemy dive bombers, hitting three of them which when last seen by the Americans were smoking and losing altitude rapidly.

At the same time, the department announced that Major General James E. Chaney, ranking army member of the American military mission in London, had taken over command of all United States army forces in the United Kingdom. This includes the force whose arrival in northern Ireland yesterday under Major General Russell P. Hartle, already has been announced.

The text of the communique, based on reports received here up to 9:30 a. m., Eastern Standard time:

"1. Philippine theater:
"There was practically no ground fighting on the Bataan peninsula during the last 24 hours."

"Two of General MacArthur's P-40 airplanes engaged in a thrilling encounter with three Japanese dive bombers. Two of the enemy planes were shot down and the third disabled. Neither of our planes was injured."

Chaney To Head AEF

In Charge Of U. S. Forces Sent To British Isles

A NORTH IRELAND PORT. Jan. 27.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. James E. Chaney, rated both as a combat pilot and a combat observer by the U. S. Air Corps, has been made commanding general of the United States army forces in the British Isles, it was officially announced today.

General Chaney's chief of staff is Brig. Gen. Charles L. Bolte. Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle, who arrived here with several thousand United States army troops general of American forces in yesterday, is the commanding Northern Ireland.

The announcement said the first United States combat troops to arrive in the European combat zone could be regarded as the vanguard of others to take up stations in the British Isles.

General Chaney, 56-year-old native of Maryland, was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1908. He transferred to the air corps after long service in the infantry and signal corps.

The establishment of "general headquarters somewhere in England" under General Chaney's command was announced.

The United States military headquarters announcement said that Chaney arrived in the United Kingdom on May 15, 1941, with 17 specially selected staff officers. He set up a general and special staff under the name of special observer group to make a detailed study of British military and air technique.

"This staff worked in close cooperation with the war office and perfected an organization which enabled immediate action when President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill decided in Washington late last month to have American troops assist in the defense of the British Isles as an essential fortress in this world struggle," the announcement added.

Protest By DeValera

DUBLIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Prime Minister Tamon De Valera issued a statement tonight protesting against the arrival of United States troops in Northern Ireland, across the border from Erie.

The statement declared that Erie had not been consulted either by the British or Ameri-

Form British And American War Boards

Pooling Plan To Bring Better Use of Resources

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The creation of three new British-American war boards to assure the most efficient utilization of munitions, shipping, and raw materials was announced today by the White House.

The advancement contemplates pooling the "entire munition resources of Great Britain and the United States," the pooling in principle of their shipping resources, and a "planned and expeditious utilization" of raw materials.

(The British government announced the following heads of the war boards:

(Munitions assignments board: Washington, Harry L. Hopkins, (civilian chairman); London, Lord Beaverbrook.)

(Combined Shipping adjustment board: Washington, Admiral Emory S. Land; United Kingdom, Sir Arthur Salter; London, Lord Leathers.)

(Combined war materials board: Washington, William L. Batt; United Kingdom, Sir Clive Bailleau; London, Lord Beaverbrook.)

While membership on the boards is reserved for Americans and Britons, the new agencies are to collaborate with others of the United Nations.

Formation of the boards was announced simultaneously here and in London. Apparently the boards grew out of the recent conversations in Washington between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

The White House announcement said there was to be an interchange of the "fullest information" on munitions. Committees will be formed here and in London under the combined chiefs of staff in a manner similar to the southwest Pacific agreement.

Advise On Assignments
"These committees," the statement asserted, "will advise on all assignments both in quantity and priority, whether to Great Britain and the United States or other of the United Nations in accordance with strategic needs."

A civilian chairman will be named by Mr. Roosevelt to preside over the committee in Washington and a similar chairman for Britain will be chosen by Mr. Churchill, each receiving the assistance in a capable secretariat and having authority to invite state department, foreign office or production agency representatives to attend meetings.

A combined shipping adjustment board, consisting of a representative of this country and one from Britain, is to be set up in Washington and a similar board will be established in London in order to "adjust and concert in one harmonious policy" the work of the British war transport ministry and United States shipping authorities.

Executive power will be administered only by "the appropriate

Henderson In Price Control Passage Urge

Appeals To Senate To Accord It Final Approval

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Delivering a critical blast at Price Administrator Leon Henderson, Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) told the senate today he would vote against the compromise price control measure passed yesterday by the house.

"This gives unlimited and vital powers to one man," the senator boomed. "It will give him and his employees a dictatorial power over every bit of food that goes down our throats, every bit of clothing that we wear."

Despite McKellar's stand and opposition by several members of the farm bloc, administration leaders expected the senate to complete congressional action on the long controverted price control legislation before the day ended.

"Not One-Man Country"
"This is not a one-man country," McKellar shouted. "This is a democracy and that's what we're supposed to be fighting for."

"This will let Mr. Henderson disregard the wishes of everyone in my state and your state," he told his colleagues, adding that the price administrator already had demonstrated that he was "too arrogant of the rights of plain people of this country" in conferences with senators.

When McKellar had concluded his protest, Senator Glass (D-Va) asked him, "Say, Mac, when did you come to the conclusion this was not a one-man government?"

McKellar and other senators joined in laughter.

In asking approval of the compromise, Senator Brown (D-Mich) said that a license to do business could be taken away only after two violations.

He said the purpose of the measure was not to prevent price gains of a few cents on scattered items, such as beef or cotton, but to block "tremendous increases" which occurred during the last World War.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Acting Price Administrator Leon Henderson was reported today to have made a last-minute appeal to senators for final approval of compromise price control legislation.

Well informed sources said that he had written a letter to senators in an attempt to refute any implication that he believed the pending bill would not achieve the degree of price control that current conditions warrant. It also had been reported that Republicans might try to block President Roosevelt's expected appointment of Henderson as administrator once the bill becomes law.

Some senators were reported to have said that there was no good reason to have an administrator who believed the legislation he was to direct would be ineffective.

These developments became known as the senate prepared to call up a senate-house compromise on the controversial legislation which the house approved yesterday by a vote of 286 to 112. Senator Brown (D-Mich), floor manager for the bill, said he expected the senate to approve it, perhaps in time for it to be delivered to President Roosevelt by nightfall. Ahead of it in the senate calendar, however, was the second presidential war powers bill.

Ceilings On Crops

Brown said that the ceilings on 23 of the 25 major farm crops apparently would be affected by only one of the three agriculture limitations in the bill—that prohibiting the imposition of a ceiling below 110 per cent of parity. Only cotton and potatoes, he said, would be affected by other stipulations that ceilings could not be fixed below the market levels of

With The Dutch Sink Or Damage 34 Warships

By D. WITT HANCOCK
BATAVIA, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A heavy Japanese warship sunk in the first day of Japan's disastrous effort to run the Straits of Macassar was identified tentatively today as a battleship in a Dutch recapitulation of the enemy's losses.

This would raise Japan's toll to two capital ships so far. The first was the battleship Haruna, sunk by Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., of the Philippines in the first days of the war.

A special Dutch communique Friday said a "large warship," together with two cruisers and a transport, suffered direct hits with 660-pound bombs when Dutch fliers attacked the Japanese convoy. It is this "large warship" that now is believed to be a battleship.

BY ROGER D. GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

American battle forces dominated the news on far-flung war fronts today as Britons wildly cheered the arrival of a second AEF vanguard in Northern Ireland, and, halfway around the world, U. S. planes and submarines slashed at the remnants of a once-powerful Japanese invasion armada off Dutch Borneo.

In the Philippines two American pursuit planes shot down two Rising Sun dive-bombers and disabled a third in the last 24 hours, and American torpedoboats engaged a formation of dive-bombers, hitting three.

In the great American-Dutch naval victory off Borneo, N. E. I. accounts claimed only 28 Japanese ships sunk or heavily damaged and 13 Japanese warplanes downed. American accounts listed six other ships less heavily damaged.

Pressing home Japan's first major defeat in the seven-week-old conflict, American and Dutch forces already had sunk or damaged 34 Japanese warships and troop transports in the shark-infested Strait of Macassar. The running battle continued into its fifth day today.

In addition, dispatches from Batavia said another heavy Japanese ship, believed to be a battleship, was sunk in Macassar strait.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters acknowledged that four Japanese transports were lost in a battle last Friday during landing operations at Balikpapan, rich oil center on the east coast of Dutch Borneo, facing Macassar strait.

A Tokyo bulletin said Japanese warships escorting the transports clashed with allied destroyers, submarines and aircraft, and sank one of the attacking submarines. The Dutch already had destroyed the Balikpapan oil fields in pursuance of a "scorched earth" policy.

Battle For Singapore Furlous

On the Malayan front, the critical battle for Singapore raged with heightening fury as Japanese troops scored a 12-mile advance on the west coast and bitter fighting developed at Senggarang,

About 1,500 Sign As Volunteers

Approximately 1,500 persons in Sedalia and Pettis county enrolled as volunteers under the civilian defense program. The four day registration closed Monday night and the records are now all on file in the Civilian Defense headquarters, the Chamber of Commerce office.

From this file persons will be selected to aid on committee work and to help in setting up an organization in the county.

This number is considered very small for a county the size of Pettis, but it is believed many more will offer their services from time to time. Those who have not registered and are willing to give their leisure time to the program, may still register, by calling at the Chamber of Commerce office and asking for an enrollment card.

only 48 miles north of Singapore. Front-line dispatches said the key rail and highway town of Kluang, 50 miles above Singapore, had apparently fallen. The British acknowledged fighting south of there.

Balancing reverses in Malaya, the arrival of American troops in the United Kingdom and official disclosure that United States bombers would join the RAF in blasting Germany brightened the outlook for the United Nations.

In England, the cry spread like wildfire:

"The Yanks are here!" Immediately, the British radio laid down the heaviest propaganda barrage of the war, broadcasting in a multitude of languages that American troops had landed and emphasizing that the United States sent approximately 2,000,000 men across the Atlantic during World War I.

This time, the broadcasts said, the flow of American fighting men is starting much faster.

Throng Greet Troops Spectators jammed the streets as the troops marched out of the dockyard after a brief official greeting, swinging along with full battle kit to the strains of "Marching Through Georgia."

The contingent, commanded by Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle, was described officially as "combat troops.... several thousand strong."

On the American home front, a German communique asserted that Nazi U-boats preying on ships off the United States and Canadian coasts had sunk 12 more merchant vessels totaling 103,000 tons—obviously a propaganda exaggeration.

"Since their first appearance off the shores of the western Atlantic, our U-boats have sunk 30 enemy merchant ships aggregating 228,000 tons," a special bulletin from Adolf Hitler's headquarters boasted.

Actually, only seven ships have been reported attacked in U.S. waters.

Other swift-breaking developments included: 1. In London, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told a cheering Parliament that defenders of Malaya and Singapore "have been considerably reinforced in the last week" and declared that the critical jungle battle would be "fought to the last inch."

Churchill warned that Japanese naval supremacy would last "long enough to inflict many heavy and painful losses on all the United Nations" in the far Pacific, but said confidently that "if we persevere, the boot will be on the other foot."

The British war leader praised the "splendid courage" of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's gallant defenders in the Philippines and lauded the Dutch "for playing one of the main parts in the Malayan battle."

2. Churchill also disclosed that U. S. fighter and bomber squadrons will take part in the defense of the British Isles and U. S. bombers will attack Germany.

Besides the AEF vanguard which arrived in Northern Ireland yesterday, Churchill said "very considerable forces are following as opportunity serves."

3. In the Philippines, a Tokyo broadcast asserted without confirmation elsewhere that Japanese troops had captured Balanga, chief town on the east coast of Batan peninsula facing Manila bay.

4. In the Dutch East Indies, the N.E.I. command acknowledged that Japanese sea-borne troops had apparently succeeded in occupying new points in southeast Celebes island, in the Kendari section.

5. On the Malayan front, British headquarters reported that Japan's invasion forces had effected another landing near Endau, on the east coast, 80 miles north of Singapore.

A British bulletin said the landing was executed despite heavy assault by RAF bombers which scored a direct hit on a Japanese cruiser and 12 direct hits on troop-laden transports.

6. In Singapore itself, RAF fighting planes battled Japanese bomber formations in prolonged action over the $400,000,000 island stronghold this morning. Bombs fell on several districts, and a few fires were started.

7. Imperial Tokyo headquarters said 50 British planes were shot down yesterday—39 in air battles in which RAF bombers and torpedo planes attacked Japanese transports off Endau; 10 shot down over Rangood, Burma, and one at Singapore.

8. A Tokyo broadcast said Japanese forces were advancing "according to plan" upon Moumein, across the bay from Rangoon, but admitted terrific resistance.

Singapore and at Seranganag on the west coast. Beyond word that the historic running battle in the Strait of Macassar was continuing, no further details were immediately available.

The only aircraft carrier believed to have been assigned to the Japanese armada was torpedoed by a U. S. submarine and it was officially reported that the carrier "is believed to have sunk." Even if she survived, navy men said, her disabled condition would demobilize the planes aboard.

The U. S. and Dutch forces listed 11 ships as definitely sunk in the four day battle in the 414-mile strait between Borneo and the Celebes, six as probably sunk and 17 others heavily damaged.

In addition, five Japanese planes which challenged U. S. flying fortresses had been shot down before the attack upon the carrier was announced.

Contributing to the one-hip-sinking-a-day program of the U. S. armed services for the 51 days of the war was a second motor torpedo-boat foray into Japanese-held Subic bay, which cuts into the Luzon coast line 50 miles northwest of Manila.

There Ensign George E. Cox, Jr., of Watertown, N. Y., 27-year-old veteran of speedboat racing on the St. Lawrence river, torpedoed and sank a 5,000-ton Japanese vessel.

The royal Australian air force reported that three Japanese ships in Rabaul harbor were damaged in a bombing attack last night and two were left in flames. All the Australian aircraft, supporting the ground forces reported to be still challenging the invaders, were reported to have returned.

A British announcement said 1,202 persons had been killed by Japanese bombs in Rangoon, the Burmese capital, since Dec. 23.

Add Another To Toll BATAVIA, N. E. I., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Another heavy Japanese war vessel, believed to be a battleship, was added to the toll of the enemy's disastrous effort to run the Straits of Macassar in a recapitulation by the Dutch today.

The summary by authoritative sources said that in three days of a running Dutch-American air and sea assault on a great Japanese convoy in the narrow waters between the Islands of Borneo and Celebes 28 enemy ships were sunk or heavily damaged and 13 warplanes downed.

Eleven of the ships were war vessels and 17 were transports, it said. "By now it has become clear," informed observers told Aneta, the Netherlands Indies news agency, "that the heavy blows struck at the enemy have certainly upset his timetable and perhaps his future strategy."

ported an unusual combat which occurred two days ago between two of his motor torpedo boats and a formation of enemy dive bombers. When the officers commanding the torpedo boats observed two waves of enemy bombers approaching they might easily have sought cover. Instead, they increased their speed, placing themselves directly in the line of flight of the second wave, and engaged the planes. The fire from the boats dispersed the hostile aircraft. Three enemy planes were hit and when last observed were smoking and losing altitude rapidly. Officers and men of these boats were cited by General MacArthur for gallantry.

"2. United Kingdom: "Major General James E. Chaney, who has been stationed in London for sometime, and whose staff, under Brigadier General Charles L. Bolte, as chief of staff, has been formed for several months, has taken over command of all U. S. army forces in the United Kingdom."

can governments with regard to the coming of the troops. De Valera based his objection on the emphasis lent the split between Erie and Northern Ireland by the establishment of the American forces on the northern side of the border.

His statement referred to the fight 20 years ago when he said the Irish nation was partitioned "despite the express will of the Irish people."

He compared the division of Ireland with the partition of Poland and called it "one of the cruelest wrongs that could be committed."

However, he declared, the people of Ireland have "no feeling of hostility toward and no desire to be brought in any way into conflict with the United States."

U. S. Steel Votes $1 A Share Dividend NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Directors of the United States Steel Corp., today voted a dividend of $1 a share on the approximately 8,700,000 outstanding common shares. Dividends at the rate of $1 quarterly have been paid on the common since April, 1940.

The corporation reported a net profit of $20,331,427 for the final quarter of 1941 compared with $34,313,345 in the September quarter and $32,763,251 in the last quarter of 1940. After deducting direction, bringing in Britain's dominions. Besides a special council for the war in the Pacific to be set up in Washington or London, he announced that Britain had agreed to the requests of Australia for the right to membership in the war cabinet and that the same rights will be accorded New Zealand, Canada and South Africa.

Churchill also mentioned arrangements with President Roosevelt for a body in Washington to be called "the combined staff committee and declared that we must also concert together in close collaboration with Stalin and Chiang Kai-Shek."

"I am the man that parliament and the nation have got to blame for the general way in which they were served," the prime minister told the house of commons in a voice made husky by a heavy cold as he summed up Britain's war fortunes in his first review since visiting the United States.

Brighter Outlook "And," he added, "I cannot serve them effectively unless, in spite of all that has gone wrong and is going to go wrong, I have their trust and their faithful aid."

Not all that Churchill reported was of British reverses or of dark prospects for the future. In Libya, he said, an imperial army outnumbered two-to-one by General Erwin Rommel's German and Italian forces has won Cirenica.

He has lost 18,000 men killed, wounded or captured, he disclosed. But he declared that more than three times that number—a highly profitable transaction—have been lost by the axis. He totaled their casualties at 61,000. Now, he added, Britain's job is to hold reconquered Cirenica.

He called Britain's munitions output "gigantic" with tank production doubled in the last six months and small arms output is more than doubled.

Britain's volume of planes is steadily rising, he said, and they are larger and better. The prime minister said he had many discussions in Washington with President Roosevelt on the British-American war direction and that "in order to wage war effectively against Japan" they had agreed that Roosevelt "propose the establishment of a Pacific council in Washington or London to include representatives of Australia and New Zealand as well as Britain and the Netherlands."

Australia wants and New Zealand prefers Washington as the meeting place, Churchill said, but no decision has been reached yet whether it will be there or London.

Tribute To MacArthur LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—To General Douglas MacArthur and his command in the Philippines Prime Minister Churchill paid this tribute in his war review to the house of commons today:

"I would like in the name of the house to express my tribute to the splendid courage with which the small American army under General MacArthur has resisted so brilliantly and so long the hordes of Japanese hurled against it by superior air and sea power."

"Amid our own troubles we send General MacArthur, his soldiers and the Filipino troops who are defending their native soil with vigor and courage our salute."

Asks Why AEF Sent To Britain WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Rep. Robison (R-Ky) demanded on the house floor today to know why an American expeditionary force had been sent to the British Isles, instead of "yonder to the Philippines" to aid General Douglas MacArthur and his heroic force.

Robison took the floor during debate on the $17,722,565,474 naval appropriations bill designed to make the United States navy the strongest in the world.

He said that Great Britain had three and one-half million men armed to the teeth, and "sitting on their bottoms" while Germany was occupied by Russia.

"Oh, how American hearts are bleeding for aid to General MacArthur," he cried, "yet we got an army and ships and planes to northern Ireland."

Meanwhile the senate appropriations committee approved the $12,555,872,474 fund to expand the army air corps.

Army air corps officials told the committee that this fund would enable this nation to build enough airplanes to deliver a "knockout" blow against the axis nations.

They said it would assure a steady stream of plane production, with emphasis on heavy bombers, during the next three years.

Every minute counts in these fast-moving times, and no newspaper expects a woman to go back to school for four days without asking "What's there in it for me?"

The answer is that this school itself is fast-moving, focused on a modern, completely-equipped kitchen, rather than on a routine lecture platform. Appropriately this demonstration kitchen is directed by an alert specialist, as up-to-the-minute as the household equipment she shows in actual operation.

The Democrat-Capital is confident that every woman reader will welcome the opportunity for friendly consultation with Mrs. Thurn. She comes as a sympathetic neighbor, who is graciously "at home" in her stage kitchen, whether she is rolling pastry under a battery of watching eyes or answering questions.

Questions? Certainly, bring them with you. Pencils, too. If you don't bring an appetite, you will take one home, for listening to the story of good foods, watching them in every step of preparation and sniffing them as they cook, is guaranteed to send every "pupil" home hungry and eager to duplicate the tempting recipes on the free daily recipe sheets.

Some of the hungry guests will carry home those demonstration treats, watched in the making. Others will carry bulging gift bags or unheralded surprises. All will be discussing the exciting, final-day rewards, offered by the enterprising merchants and firms who are cooperating with the Democrat-Capital in staging this free, worthwhile cooking school.

Short Course For Horse And Mule Breeders There will be a Missouri Horse and Mule Breeders' short course at the University of Missouri Live Stock Pavilion, Columbia, on Thursday, beginning at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 1:30 o'clock, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

(The availability of horses, mules, prices and other current information will be discussed.

shipping agency in Washington," presumably the maritime commission, and by the war transport minister in London.

The announcement said the entire movement of shipping now under British control would continue to be directed by the war transport ministry because of "the military and physical facts of the situation around the British Isles."

Similarly, the appropriate authority in this country will direct movements and allocations of United States shipping or shipping under this government's control.

A "combined raw materials board" will be composed of a representative each from the British and United States governments, with no provision for the branches in the two countries. The statement did not disclose where its headquarters would be but it is charged with planning "the best and speediest development, expansion and use of the raw material resources under the jurisdiction or control of the two governments," and making recommendations necessary for carrying out the plans developed.

Likewise, in collaboration with others of the United Nations. The board must formulate plans and recommendations for the "development, expansion, purchase, or other effective use of their raw materials."

Sedalian At Legion Meet

The seventh district meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary in Marshall Sunday was well attended by Sedalians. Commander C. A. Clason, of Clinton, who has recently returned from the national defense conference in Washington, D. C., brought a timely report on the program outlined by the council of defense, of which meeting Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was the principal speaker.

Mrs. Roosevelt, assistant director of the national civilian defense, complimented the American Legion in taking over the air raid warning and warden service for the national defense.

There was a round table discussion on child welfare and information was given on how to receive emergency aid from the five million dollar Legion fund for child welfare.

Following the joint meeting, separate meetings were held by the Legion and Auxiliary. Mrs. Leo Kroenke, of Concordia, president of the seventh district, presided over the auxiliary meeting, where reports of the units were given.

This was one of the largest meetings held in the seventh district for several years, all units being well represented.

The next district meeting will be in April, the date to be announced later.

Henderson In Price Control Passage Urge (Continued From Page One)

Oct. 1 and Dec. 15 or the average price from 1919 to 1929.

These farm restrictions—which originally split both the house and senate and evoked the bitter criticism of the president before they were worked out finally—went virtually unnoticed in the rough and tumble house debate yesterday.

Instead, arguments centered around a provision that the price administrator's office be authorized to require licensing of businesses to make the program effective and another that a board of review be created to restudy any price ceiling orders that might be promulgated.

Under the leadership of Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) an attempt was made to eliminate the licensing sections and to restore the review board once approved by the house. But that double-barrelled proposition was defeated, 209 to 189.

Council Of PTA In All-Day Meet

The Pettis County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations is meeting at the Fifth Street Methodist church today, with about fifty women present, discussing modern problems in community living, and the AAA food program.

Mrs. Paul Zink, council president, called the meeting to order at 10:30 o'clock, and presented Rev. C. P. Cayton, who offered prayer, which was followed by a pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Musical numbers were given by a sextette from Lincoln school, under the direction of Miss Viola Kinney. C. F. Spotten, county superintendent of schools discussed the part the county schools will take in the defense program.

Lunch was served in the church basement, and at the conclusion of the report, George H. Scruton, editor of the Sedalia Democrat, spoke on publicity for the clubs.

Mrs. George Fichter spoke on the AAA food program and showed pictures that were of interest to the crowd.

The Higgins PTA gave a program on games, and the program concluded with a play "The Lighting of the Candles" by members of the Elm Branch-Swisher units.

Mrs. John W. Lewis was program chairman, with assisting hostess units, Bethel, Elm Branch - Swisher, Higgins, Hughesville, Lone Star, Maplewood, Smelser and Sunnyside.

At least nobody will complain if the shortage puts an end to rubber checks.

Local Golden Glovers Fight Again Tonight

Boonville Battlers Face Sedalians In Second Trials Here

Tonight in the Y. M. C. A. gym Sedalia fight fans will be dished out their second helping of leather tossing when the Sedalia Golden Glovers compete with the Missouri Training school of Boonville. The first bout is scheduled to get underway at 8:15 o'clock.

Last week, fans were well pleased when the St. Joseph team appeared on the card against the local glove slingers. The boxers produced many thrills for the ring followers and not one bout was considered a bad match.

Fourteen To Appear Fourteen fighters will appear on the program tonight from the training school, as announced by Major R. J. T. Carter of the school. These boxers are divided into two teams picked from an inter-school tournament held there recently.

Coach Earl Hallahan, who has been laboring and giving instructions day and night to the Sedalia team is confident that he will bring forth some winners, and will produce several champions for the coming tournament this year. Hallahan is helping each fighter individually, instructing and pointing out the weaknesses of the boxers.

Novice Group Sedalia fighters participating in the program tonight will be announced at the ringside just before the matches, after all the weigh-ins are reported.

Boonville's squad this year is something of a novice group practically on the same grounds as the Sedalia entries so matches this evening are expected to be on par.

Attempts are being made to contact the Jefferson City fighters to make an appearance on the Y. M. C. A. card. Sedalia staged its first bouts of the year in the Capitol city.

Decline After Rise On Stock Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Light selling stemmed an early recovery drive in today's stock market.

Leading rails, steels, oils and specialties got off to a good start and extended Monday's advance by fractions to a point or so. Trends wavered after midday and, while mild improvement was retained by many favorites, declines were plentiful at the close.

Dealings, moderately active in the forenoon when the direction was upward, slackened appreciably later and transfers for the full session approximated 600,000 shares.

WHAT could be more appropriate for a soldier's sweetheart's engagement party than red, white and blue flowers? The patriotic centerpiece, above, is made of red and white gladioli, and blue cornflowers. Individual corsages with a fresh, tailored look consist of one blue bloom and snipped gladioli petals trimly tied with ribbons. These new lappel decorations might be wired to the guests by the fiancé who is stationed too far away to make a personal appearance. Other smart choices for executing the theme would be red and white roses, carnations, or chrysanthemums, with delphinium or iris.

Birth Is Announced

Mrs. Pyne was formerly Miss Carol Hodgkin, who spent two and a half years in Sedalia as Metropolitan health nurse.

COOKING SCHOOL LESSON

1. MEASURE OUT 2. CREAM WITH WATER 3. ADD BOILING WATER WHILE STIRRING!

"Many women simply won't believe their eyes when I make a perfect hot starch in less than a minute—WITHOUT COOKING—with Faultless Starch at the Democrat-Capital Cooking School!" says Mrs. George Thurn. Here's all you do to make perfect hot laundry starch with Faultless

Starch—first, measure out (and Faultless Starch is as easy to measure as baking powder), then cream with a little water, and finally just add boiling water while stirring! It's all done in less than a minute, the Faultless way! Try it yourself. You can get Faultless Starch in 5c or 10c packages at your grocer's.

Books For Boys In Service In Victory Book Campaign

Just before switching out your bed-lamp at night, after reading "Berlin Diary" or "Inside Latin America," or "The Keys to the Kingdom," does it ever occur to you that the men who are protecting your right to read, the author's right of free expression, even the very existence of literature, may not themselves have access to those books?

Twenty-one dollars a month may buy tickets to a few movies, cigarettes, and a trip to the big city, but it won't go very far toward buying new books or old favorites, and camp libraries are at present woefully inadequate. To eradicate this real difficulty, Americans are being asked to give books to the Victory Book Campaign, sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross, and the United Service Organizations, for the benefit of our armed forces.

Missouri's slogan is "Give the book you're reading now." The boys also need up-to-date technical material to help them with their military problems, books that will keep them abreast of current affairs, and plenty of good fiction.

Though literature cannot be classed as one of the prime esentials to existence, it is the core of culture, the basic means for the dissemination of free ideas. We understand this to be not merely a total war of arms, but also a conflagration designed to burn out the dastardly creeds which threaten our democratic existence. Only an enlightened citizenry can salvage our ideals from the flaming ruins of war, and with them build a new structure of lasting peace and goodwill.

Gifts of money are welcome in the Victory Book Campaign to collect ten million books for the soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States.

If you have no volumes on your shelves which you care to give away or feel would be of value to the libraries, your money gift will be sent by your local public library to a central source which is prepared to buy just the right books for particular libraries. And if you want to "ear-mark" your fund for Fort Jackson, Fort Leonard Wood, Camp Crowder, Jefferson Barracks, or any other specific service library location, you may do so.

It is also suggested contributors might buy new books rather than giving from their own libraries, if they prefer.

• Green Ridge

By Mrs. J. B. Meyers

A. J. Inman and Buddie Drier of Chicago, are guests this week at the home of the former's aunt, Mrs. Harold Eckhoff and Mr. Eckhoff.

Marva Lee Beach was a guest over the week-end of her friend, Elanore Seifeid at her home in Warrensburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rayburn had as their guests for dinner on Sunday their son, G. D. Rayburn, Mrs. Rayburn and daughter Donna Kay of Clinton. Also their daughter Mrs. Eldon Brown, Mr. Brown and daughters Barbara and Mary Katherine and son Richard, of Windsor.

The condition of Mrs. Lydia Yose who is ill at her home in South Green Ridge is still unsatisfactory.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Vogelbaugh who have been spending several months at the Worth farm near Brownington, returned to their home in Green Ridge Monday. Mrs. Vogelbaugh is under the care of Dr. H. A. Hite.

Mrs. Lee Wilson who is said to be in a critical condition at her home in the east part of town is reported doing much better.

Laddie Ream who is employed in a munitions plant in St. Louis is visiting for a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Ream.

Miss Pearl Calvert was dismissed on Sunday from the hospital at Kirkeville where she recently underwent an operation. Miss Calvert expects to return to her home in Green Ridge in about a week. At present she is in Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wadleigh received a message Monday night telling them of the birth of a daughter born to their son Elmer Wadleigh and Mrs. Wadleigh of Beaumont, Texas. The name of Carol Lee has been given the newly born infant.

Mrs. Glen Morrow was hostess on Saturday afternoon to the members of the Mutual Improvement Club. Mrs. Earl Hinken chairman, introduced the subject, "Women's Part in the War Effort," and talks were given by the following members, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Ellen Kendrick, Mrs. H. A. Hite, Miss Grace Still and Mrs. Wilford Acker. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Guests over the week-end at the Davis farm were their son, Donald, J. W. Hacller and Lawrence Dodson, all students in the N. Y. A. school at Fulton.

Relatives from a distance attending the burial of Elijah Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Levi Anderson, Kansas City, Mrs. Mary Carnes of Linn and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Anderson, of Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Cale Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Easter attended the funeral of Mrs. Davis' sister, Mrs. Oda Kimbrough, of Carthage, who passed away at a hospital in Fort Scott Saturday. Mrs. Davis had been at the bedside of her sister.

Mrs. Joe Floyd, of Jefferson City, and Miss Wilma Calvert, of Columbia, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Calvert.

William Ream, son of Postmaster F. E. Ream, who is with the U. S. Navy arrived in Green Ridge Thursday for a visit with his father and brother, Phillip Ream.

Plan Awards In Conservation

Recognition of outstanding individual contributions to conservation in Missouri will be made at the Missouri State Fair here this year, according to plans announced by the state conservation commission.

The recognition will be made through the medium of Master Conservationist awards—comparable to "master farmers" awards will be high, and probably only a small group of persons will be honored this year, the first year of the program. If none of the nominees meets the standards, no awards will be made.

Presentation ceremonies will take place at the Wildlife Conservation building on the fair grounds during fair week. The award will be in the form of a key or madallion, accompanied by a certificate of honor.

Welding Students Sought Here

M. Q. Frye is in Sedalia for several days for the purpose of selecting men who can qualify for training in shipyard welding. Applicants must be American citizens, white, between 18 and 55 years old, mechanically inclined and in at least average health.

Men accepted for training must finance themselves through six weeks of training at the end of which course they go to work immediately at $1.12 per hour. Frye who represents a west coast welding institute may be contacted at the Bothwell hotel.

Police Radio Antenna Up

The antenna for the police radio equipment was installed at the rear of police headquarters Monday in preparation for operation of the station, which will start as soon as the official permit and frequency is issued by the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

The tall metal antenna extends above the roof of the building, and the power which will travel over the lines leading from the station to it will be sufficiently strong to carry reports to the state highway patrol station at Lees Summit.

The letters KAME, have been issued to the station.

THE MANY-BILLION DOLLAR SHIPBUILDING PROGRAM JUST STARTING ASSURES COMPETENT MEN STEADY WORK FOR MANY YEARS TO COME—

Why Inexperienced Men Are Being

Accepted for Training in Electric Welding

MIGHTIEST SHIPBUILDING PROGRAM IN HISTORY!

The thousands of ships sunk since the war started has resulted in an acute shortage of cargo vessels. This shortage, together with the imperative need for hundreds of naval craft, as well as the necessity of rebuilding of our Merchant Marine, made necessary the government's appropriation of billions of dollars for the mightiest shipbuilding program in history.

It takes time and skill to build a ship. Ships cannot be turned out in assembly-line fashion. Present-day warships are more intricately wrought than their World War prototypes. In building a destroyer, four man-hours per pound of material are required where one sufficed in 1918. The average cargo vessel requires from 1 1/2 to 2 years to construct, cruisers 2 1/2 to 3 years; battleships take from 3 to 4 years to build.

Welding Has Replaced Riveting

Shipbuilding has undergone a particularly important change in the last few years. Electric welding has replaced the riveting construction of other years. Welding makes ships speedier and better.

Acute Shortage of Skilled Labor

Due to the swing from riveting to electric welding, the biggest headache for the shipbuilders is the lack of skilled welders. The number of experienced men throughout the country is comparatively small and even before this vast shipbuilding program started, most competent welders were already employed in various phases of defense work.

Untrained men cannot be employed. Inexperienced men cannot build ships. Therefore to enable the shipbuilding program to get into full swing, many thousands of men must be trained immediately in electric arc welding for ship construction.

Training of Only 5 Weeks Necessary

Men of average intelligence, without any previous welding knowledge or experience, if accepted for training, can be taught electric welding for shipyard work in six weeks. Some men, with partial experience, in five weeks. This training enables them to start working at $1.12 per hour with time-and-a-half for overtime and double time for Sunday work.

Shipbuilders are working three shifts daily. Men working the second shift receive 10 per cent more, and those working night shift receive 15 per cent more per hour than the day-shift workers.

Upon employment, men may attend night-training classes in mechanics, drafting, engineering, etc., without cost, to prepare themselves for promotion into higher positions. Opportunities for advancement are practically unlimited.

THE ONLY YEAST WITH ALL THESE VITAMINS IS FLEISCHMANN'S

RECIPE

Easy Does It!
BUCKWHEAT CAKES

1 cake Fleischmann's Yeast
3 tablespoons molasses
2 1/4 cups lukewarm water
1 cup sifted white flour
1 cup milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 cups buckwheat flour
Dissolve yeast and molasses in lukewarm water. Scald milk, add salt and cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast; add buckwheat flour and white flour gradually, beating until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1 hour. Stir well and bake on hot greased griddle.
Makes 45.
For Overnight Method: Use 1/4 cake Fleischmann's Yeast and an additional 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cover and let stand overnight in a cool place.

Fleischmann's is the only yeast being used in Cooking School demonstrations this week. The Fresh Yeast—with the yellow label.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
(Wide World Sports Columnist)
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(Wide World)—Laugh of the week: There's nothing wrong with racing that words won't cure, according to Herbert S. Swope's report to his fellow racing commissioners at the Miami meeting . . . "The word 'handle' carries with it a very unfortunate connotation," Swope explained. "There is a low commercial sound in which the implication is very definitely 'handling for your own benefit.'" . . . Well? . . . When Bill Terry turned over the Giants' reins to Mel Ott he didn't volunteer any special advice but said "It's your club. If you want to know anything or want me at the training camp I'm available any time." . . . P. S. Terry will be in camp for at least the first few weeks. . . . Football isn't the only cause of NYU's athletic troubles. At a recent basketball game only 400 student seats were filled instead of the usual 2,000.

Figuring Out Figures

After you've piled up enough comparative scores to prove that Abb Normal could beat Minnesota's football team 99-0, try this one: On January 14, Loyal of Baltimore beat Western Maryland in an overtime basketball game, 39-38. Within the next week each one beat Catholic U. by the same score, 50 to 33, and the half time score in each game was 26-20.

Sportpourri

The next "fastest human" may be Jim O'Reilly, Southern California sophomore. Coach Dean Cromwell says he's "as good as any sprint prospect I ever had and may be the best of them all." Report says that Bill Dudley already has come to terms to play for the Pittsburgh Steelers next fall but the signing won't be announced until after graduation. . . . Move is under way to restore basketball in Boston high schools, which dropped the sport 30 years ago when games used to bust up in fights. . . . Don Durdan (remember him, Duke?) has joined up with the Oregon State basketball squad after missing one season. It was as a basketballer that he first went to college. . . . When Serge Rachmaninoff gave a concert in Columbia, S. C., recently, he stayed up two hours past bedtime to talk shop with Ken Roskie, South Carolina full-back who hopes to become a concert pianist.

One Error, No Hit

When Coach Jess Neely of Rice was asked to show movies of the Rice-Texas football game at a luncheon, he did. But they were the films taken at the 1940 game, which Rice won 13-0, not last season's 40-0 Texas triumph. "It was all a terrible mistake," Jess explained to an unbelieving audience.

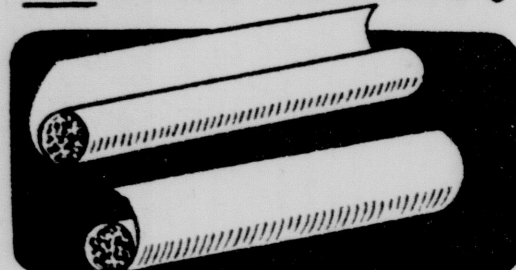

Keep Blackout From Semi-Pro Games

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Daylight saving time will keep the blackout away from semi-pro games this summer.

Ninety per cent of the games in semi-pro leagues are played at twilight and it's usually a race with nightfall to get in the required innings.

Ray Dumont, president of the National Semi-Pro Association, says the extra hour of daylight this summer will permit nine innings of leisurely ball instead of the usual seven.

Scouting In The Sedalia District

Troop No. 56 had its regular meeting Monday night at Washington school. We opened the meeting with the Scout Oath and Law. After playing several games, new ones, we had our business meeting and patrol corners. We closed by repeating the Scoutmaster's benediction.
Earl Carver, scribe.

Troop No. 58 held its meeting Tuesday evening. Mr. Waddell attended the meeting. After the business meeting the Scouts played basketball. Next Tuesday evening the troop is going to register.
Joe Meyer, scribe.

Troop No. 71 Smithton, met Wednesday night. We collected dues then talked about our waste paper collection. We decided to work hard on signaling. Then we passed tests and had a patrol meeting. We played games and closed with the Pledge of Allegiance and Scoutmaster's benediction.
Donald Mahnen, scribe.

Troop No. 65 held its meeting Wednesday night at Broadway school. We opened the meeting with Scout James Heerman leading us in the Scout Oath and Law. We devoted into patrols and studied for about forty minutes. After that our Scoutmaster, Mr. Shores, served us soda pop and cookies. We then gave the Scoutmaster's benediction, and Dickie Dean played Taps.

Cubbing In The Sedalia District

Pack 56, Den 1, met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Blankenship. We opened the meeting with the Pledge to the Flag. Mrs. Wolfel led us in a game. Mr. Wolfel talked to us about dividing our Den. We are to bring soap to our next meeting so we can start soap carvings. Gilbert Morgan brought cookies for all the boys.
James Rosenquist, Keeper of the Buckskin.

Den 2 met with Mrs. Phillips. The Den Chief collected dues, and called the roll. Mrs. Mather was present to form a new patrol. We made cardboard men. Then we had the Cub Promise.
Lee Garner Weir, Keeper of the Buckskin.

Den 3 met with four Cubs and den chief present. We opened with the Cub Promise. We made Indian tom-toms for our Indian outfits. We played Do-Do. Donald was the winner. James had a birthday and brought a cake. We sang a song for him. The meeting closed with our Den yell.
Jimmie Atkinson, Keeper of the Buckskin.

Pack No. 161, Den 4 held its regular meeting at their Den at 235 South Grand. The meeting was opened by Den Chief Bob Dillard leading the Cub Promise. Roll call with all Cubs present and two visitors. First part of the meeting we studied achievement No. 1 and then played games. Bob Dillard had a birthday and furnished refreshments. The meeting was closed with the Cub sign and motto.
Marvin Gene Lankenau, Keeper of the Buckskin.

Boy Scout Troop No. 62 met at the Houstonia high school gymnasium. Roy Freund was elected patrol leader. Shelton Rissler and Roy Freund were chosen scribes. Mr. Killian explained that some of the boys should attend the court of honor in Sedalia, February 9. After the business meeting the boys played a game of basketball.

There is much conjecture as to whether new hosiery styles will not come from old fashions. Above, Phillis Brooks models a 15th Century stocking that laced up the front. If heavier materials replace silk, perhaps leggings like this will be a new note for sports.

Quail Hunting In These Parts Was 'Good Gunnin' Last Year

This is the "post-mortem" season for quail hunters, and according to reports, quail hunting success during the past season seemed to be closely tied up with geography. And geography in Pettis county must have been pretty good, according to statements by the local hunters.

Reports of best hunting in the state were received from Pettis county and other areas in the northern part of the state, where successes were better than for several years.

In the southern part of the state, which is looked upon by many as the most productive section, hunters, ingeneral, reported only fair success. Many hunters in the central part of the state, who came back from every expedition with birds, saw no basis for the complaints of other hunters who asserted they couldn't find a bird. Which might indicate that skill in hunting as in anything else, is still an important factor.

Before the season opened the game section of the state conservation commission reported a decrease of about nine per cent in the quail population, and results were pretty consistent with that report.

The report did not mean, of course, that the percentage of decrease was evenly distributed over the state. It was greater in the southern section, and even shaded into increases in the northern section, all averaging up to about nine per cent as a whole.

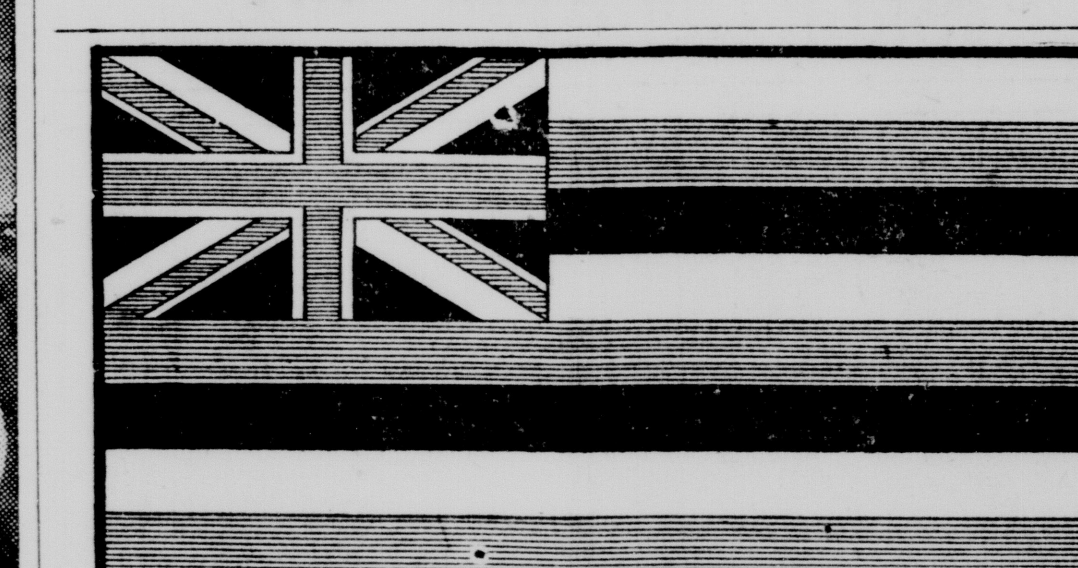

Later in the year the University of Missouri, from records kept by hunters and other data, will make an estimate of the number of quail bagged during the season. In previous seasons this number has been in the neighborhood of two and a half million birds. Allowing for a 10 per cent reduction this past season, that would still leave two and a quarter million birds bagged, which would indicate that the Bob White quail is still a long ways from extinct in Missouri.

Wants To Win 200 Big League Games

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—(P)—Larry French, at 34, is one of the most prosperous major league ball players. Big Larry is ambitious to win 200 games in the big time, so he's going back for two or three seasons.

The good looking southpaw needs 18 victories to reach 200. He figures he can pick up 14 of them next season. He'll have to reverse his 1941 record to do that, but he's confident.

"My arm wasn't any too good last season," explained Larry. "But I've been taking regular treatments this winter and it feels fine now. I think I'm good for about 14 wins with the Dodgers this year. Inasmuch as I'm only 34 I ought to be able to pitch two or three more seasons."

Sea-Weary Soldiers Of U. S. Limber Up In Ireland

By RICE YAHNER
WITH THE AEF IN NORTH-
HERN IRELAND, Jan. 27—(P)— —Sea-weary United States soldiers — vanguard of a second AEF — worked the kinks out of cramped muscles today in camps constructed by American technicians who have been working here for eight months.

In good spirits after an uneventful Atlantic crossing under the protecting guns of the U. S. and British navies, the troops — several thousand strong — found everything in readiness to receive them where they landed yesterday amid cheers and martial music.

The billets to which they were whisked away by train and motor transport were no makeshift affairs. On the contrary their quarters proved to be sturdy insulated huts, erected of pre-fabricated parts brought from the United States and designed especially to withstand the cold and frequent rains of northern Ireland.

The construction work was carried out under the lease-lend act.

While the setting was new, the wartime crossing of the Atlantic and the debarkation were an old story to many of the officers and non-commissioned officers, who landed on these shores nearly 25 years ago as members of AEF number one.

Draftees Among Them
Mingled with the world war veterans and seasoned regular army men were numerous draftees.

All were fresh from southern maneuvers which had hardened and welded them into a single fighting unit.

Censorship forbids mentioning the size of the unit or its identity, but the official announcement issued in London said it included several thousand men of an infantry division.

"They are combat troops with the usual components of field artillery," the statement added.

The contingent is commanded by 52-year old Major General
Russell P. Hartle.

Critical British, Irish and American officials who watched the troops debark spoke highly of their evident fitness.

"You are impressive examples of American military might," declared Sir Archibald Sinclair, the British air minister, who welcomed them.

Herald The Arrival
So great was the secrecy surrounding the Atlantic crossing that only a small band of curious onlookers was on hand as the big transports were warped alongside the quays.

When military bands struck up
"The Star Spangled Banner," however, a ragged cheer went up from the shore, and like wildfire the electrifying cry ran through the town:

"The Yanks are here!"
Spectators crowded to the streets as the troops marched off of the dockyard after the brief official greetings, swinging along to the stirring strains of "Marching Through Georgia" with the Stars and Stripes fluttering proudly at the head of the column.

The doughboys looked grim as they paraded through town, full packs on their backs and tin hats on their heads.

Grim came to their faces, however as they broke marching formation to entrain for their encampments and they exchanged friendly greetings with Britishers and Irishmen who crowded close to them.

While most of the doughboys hailed from the mid west and many had never before been aboard any vessel larger than a river steamer, they seemed to be taking in stride the excitement attendant upon their trans-Atlantic voyage.

"When do we eat?" was the question that seemed uppermost in their minds.

They learned quickly that they would get what the British call
"a heavy breakfast and two heavy meals" a day. British soldiers get one heavy meal and three light ones daily.

Plans for the disposition to be made of the American troops were not announced, but it was assumed that training—which began one year ago for some—would be resumed with emphasis placed upon tactics developed by British soldiers who already have seen action on the continent and elsewhere.

Most of the Americans appeared anxious to come to grips with the enemy.

"They're all eager for a fight,"
was the way one of their officers put it.

First Class Private Milburn Henke, 22, of Hutchinson, Minn., son of a German immigrant to the United States, was the first soldier ashore. He proudly displayed a postcard from his father saying: "Give 'em hell!"

Though the Atlantic crossing was described laconically by the navy as "routine" it was an exciting adventure for this correspondent and Harrison Roberts, Associated Press photographer accredited to the AEF.

The ever-present danger of enemy submarines, frequent boat drills, the sight of protecting warships wallowing through the waves and the eerie nights when the convoy swept on without a light showing all combined to add to the air of excitement.

Patriotic Meet
At Smithton

The Pettis County Post No. 16,
American Legion and the Pettis County Chapter of the Red Cross, will hold a joint meeting at the Smithton high school Thursday night. The meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock with a patriotic program.

Reverend W. P. Arnold, chaplain of the Legion Post, will be the principal speaker for the American Legion.

A. H. Wilks, chairman of the Red Cross, will speak in behalf of his organization.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Attends Girl Scouts Meeting

Mrs. Harold Dean went to Kansas City today to attend a Girl Scout regional committee meeting to be held at the Bellerive hotel. Miss Dean is a member of the committee, a regional director.

Miss Marian Phipps, girl scout executive, will go to Kansas City Wednesday and after attending the meeting will go, with other professional scout leaders, to Excelsior Springs to attend a training course to continue until Sunday. This course is known as a defense institute, and many of the problems dealing with the defense program will be taken up.

Further Study On Disaster At Pearl Harbor

Norris Proposes
One Department
In Nation's Defense

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—(P)— A sweeping, supplementary study of the Pearl Harbor disaster "and all that led up to it" by the house naval committee was promised today by Representative Maas (R-Minn.), world war veteran and ranking Republican member of the committee.

Maas' statement followed a closed meeting of the committee.
Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) declined to comment.

While declining to divulge what happened at the executive session Maas told the newsmen that "after conference with several members, I can assure the country that the house naval affairs committee will undertake a thorough investigation of the entire Pearl Harbor situation, and all that led up to it and will study also the Roberts report."

Earlier Senator Norris (Ind-Nea) demanded that army and navy commands be unified in a single defense department.

Slap At Congress
Laying a share of the blame on congress for the success of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Norris declared that the time had come to abolish the war and navy departments as such and to place the army, navy and air force under one defense department.

"Congress can't escape its part of the blame for this thing," the veteran Nebraska senator told reporters. "Long ago it should have strengthened our military organization. It ought now to provide for a unified command from the top down."

What was described as an encouraging report on American production and distribution of war equipment was said to have been given to a senate military by Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, the chief of the air forces.

While committee members declined to discuss any of the details of Arnold's testimony on a pending $12,555,000 defense appropriation bill, some said they were highly gratified at the progress made not only in producing fighting and bombing planes but in transporting them to critical military areas, such as the Orient.

Funds For Planes

The pending bill, slated for committee approval today, would provide funds for 23,000 combat planes and 10,000 trainers for a tremendous increase in the air forces. General Arnold was reported to have expressed confidence that the training of new fliers would keep pace with the production of these new craft.

Norris, who is not a member of this committee, said it was his idea in proposing the single defense department that the army, navy and air force should be made component branches and that there should be unified command in the field. He cited a portion of the report by the commission headed by Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts which pointed out the lack of cooperation between the army and navy commanders at Pearl Harbor.

Agreeing in part with Norris,
Senator Ellender (D-La.) a member of the senate naval affairs committee, said he felt there should be unification of the command in the field, but did not believe it was necessary to revamp

the war and navy departments to obtain this.

"We ought to do like the British and the Germans do," he declared. "We ought to appoint one man to supreme command on any mission that is to be carried out and give him the necessary land, sea and air power to carry out that mission."

Federal Offices On 44-Hour Week

The Sedalia office of the United States Employment Service changed its time schedule again Monday as employees of the local office and similar branches of the service over the nation began work on a 44-hour week basis.

Increased activities by the service during wartime has caused the jump in hours. The office, formerly known as the Missouri State Employment Service, controlled by a state office, recently came under the direct supervision of the national government.

The placement of men who have applied for work at shipbuilding centers and many other defense industries in the United States and its territories has kept the offices humming daily.

The Sedalia office will be open from 8 a. m., until 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, and from 8:30 a. m., until 12:30 p. m., each Saturday.

The local Social Security office and several other federal services also are observing the new 44-hour schedule beginning this week.

Broadway Cub Pack Meets

Mothers And Dads
At Session Held
At School Building

The first Cub Pack meeting of the new organized pack No. 65, sponsored by the Broadway P. T.
A. was held Monday night, January 26, at Broadway school, Mr.
S. O. Rentschler, cub master presiding with a large attendance of mothers and dads and visitors from other cub packs. All cub members were present, passed their test and were issued membership cards. Michel Wolff with his cub pack from the East Seadalia Baptist church gave a short entertainment for the benefit of the new cubs which was highly enjoyed.

The cubs were divided into four dens of 6 members with a mother and boy scout to serve as den mother and den chief for each den.

Den No. 1, Mrs. E. W. Richardson, den mother, Scout Joe Potts, den chief, Cubs Marvin Hannigan,
William Aven, Donnie Bellmer, Charles Edwards, David Richardson and Robert Hall.

Den 2, Mrs. W. J. Knight, den mothers, Scout Billy Bernard,

• The Washington Merry-go-Round

• by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — Two very significant long-distance telephone calls preceded the torpedoing of John L. Lewis' blitz AFL-CIO peace maneuver.

The first call was from CIO president Phil Murray in New York to war labor chief Sidney Hillman in Washington. Murray read Hillman the letter he had drafted slapping down Lewis and informing him that he (Murray) and not Lewis was boss of the CIO.

Murray read Hillman the letter for his approval and suggestions.

This was the first time in more than a year that Murray had sought out Hillman's counsel and support. Only a few weeks before, Murray had taken an indirect swipe at Hillman by urging the president to place all war labor activities in the Labor Department. For many months mutual friends of the two leaders had labored unsuccessfully to establish a basis of cordial working relations between them.

By one stroke Lewis accomplished what a score of others, including the White House, had been unable to do.

The second long distance call was from the president in Washington to Murray in New York. This call followed the publication of the letter Murray read to Hillman.

The president warmly congratulated Murray and assured him of complete backing. Roosevelt also invited Murray to confer with him at his earliest convenience. Murray said he would come to the White House two days later.

Fight On Lewis
At this conference, Murray stated that notice had been served on top CIO officers who are on the United Mine Worker payroll that if they didn't back Lewis' scheme, they would be axed.

The officials mentioned by Murray were himself, vice-president of the UMW as well as president of the CIO; Tom Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the UMW as well as vice-president of the CIO; and Van Bittner, district president of the UMW and acting head of the Steel Workers Organizing committee.

Murray indicated that if such strong-arm tactics were attempted he was ready to go over Lewis' head and take the fight directly to the UMW rank-and-file.

"Mr. President," Murray said earnestly, "I ardently favor peace between the CIO and the AFL. Also, the last thing I want is dissension between myself and any man in the labor movement. But we are a democratic people and we insist on solving our problems in an orderly and democratic manner. No man is big enough to tell the American worker what he should do and how he should do it."

Roosevelt assured Murray he was behind him "to the hilt." "You are in the right, Phil," he said, "and you can't lose because labor won't let you down in this kind of a fight."

Pipe Down
Rear Admiral Emory S. (Jerry) Land, peppy chief of the U. S. Maritime Commission, has adopted a unique scheme to prevent leaks of military information in his agency.

Land sent a memorandum to his staff as follows:

"Confucius' mother said to Confucius—

"Confucius, you talk too — much!"

"At times like these the foregoing philosophy should be applied by each individual in the Maritime Commission."

"When discussing Commission business, please keep it in mind."

NOTE: Knowing their boss' flair for salty language, Maritime workers had no trouble figuring out what the double blank in the memo stood for.

Army Fatheadedness

The question of army morale has vanished like last summer's roses. Yet many soldiers still have plenty of grounds for gripes. Take the case of Sergeant Clark Cook of Camp Langdon, New Hampshire.

A six-footer, weighing 175 pounds, Clark, a crack soldier, aspired to be an officer. He applied for admission to an officers' training camp and his commander approved it. But at the corps area headquarters in Boston, Cook was rejected.

The stated reason was "obesity." Cook thought he knew what obesity meant but he also knew there wasn't a pound of excess flesh on him. So he started asking questions.

In the end he discovered that a clerk in the post hospital, where Cook took his physical examination, had entered his height as 60 inches instead of 72 inches. This made him 5 feet tall, weighing 175 pounds—too fat to be an officer.

The application was returned to Boston for correction, but the corps area headquarters said it was against regulations to change the record.

So Cook is still a sergeant, waiting for another chance to apply for officers' training.

Merry-Go-Round
The Truman committee's scathing report blasted OPM and the other war agencies unsparingly, but there was one that got a hearty pat on the back. This was the Maritime Commission, which the committee commended for doing a "good job" in expanding shipyard facilities. Said the committee's report, "It is fortunate, indeed, that the Maritime Commission's shipbuilding program was well advanced prior to the beginning of the defense program." ... In contrast to other congressmen who joined the armed services and are demanding their $10,000 congressional pay, Texas' young Rep. Lyndon Johnson had himself taken off the congressional payroll the day he went on active duty—three days after Pearl Harbor. An officer in the Naval Reserve, Johnson asked for active duty on December 8 and on December 10 donned the uniform. He is living on his navy pay.

When the full story is told of the organization of the crack American Volunteer Group of fliers, who have been shooting Jap planes out of the air in China, one man who will be given a lot of credit is Lauchlin Currie, little-known White House secretary. Currie was the personal emissary that Roosevelt sent to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek early last year. Since then he has been directing U. S. aid to China ... As Alien Property Custodian, able Leo Crowley will have charge of between seven and eight billion dollars worth of foreign assets. The only injunction the president gave Crowley when appointing him was, "I put you in charge of this job, Leo, because I knew you would see to it that there will be no scandals. We don't want a repetition of the sordid story of the Harding regime."

More and more the capital resembles an armed camp: A company of soldiers has been put in the basement of the Treasury Department by Henry Morgenthau ... With bayonets fixed, soldiers march in the muddy grass around War and Navy buildings ... Business men on errands in Washington must allow ten percent more time merely to gain admission to buildings ... Argentine Minister Garcia Arias stands in line to be admitted to the Munitions building ... A newspaper man, leaving Munitions building, is stopped by a guard, who confiscates the newspaper under his arm, lest it conceal smuggled documents.

Power and Responsibility—Twins

Miss Perkins, whose cabinet career has come in for considerable criticism, may or may not be the greatest secretary of labor since William Nuckles Doak. But in her annual report to Congress she said a mouthful.

Now that organized labor has become "an established American institution," she warned, it must look about it at the other established American institutions which became powerful factors in the national welfare, used that power irresponsibly, lost the confidence of the people, and were then subjected to regulation and control by government.

Nothing is more clearly true than that power and responsibility are Siamese twins. Any effort to exercise either without the other is not only doomed to failure but to amendment by the indignant public which is inevitably the victim.

• So They Say

She brought great joy to all who knew her and to the millions who knew her only as a great artist. She gave unselfishly of her time and talent to serve her government in peace and war. She loved her country.—President Roosevelt's telegram of sympathy to Clark Gable on the death of Carole Lombard.

Go ahead and buy your food supplies as usual, and tell any merchant who urges you to stock up on foods for the emergency that he is doing our country a serious injury ... —Joint statement of OPM and Agriculture Department's Consumers' Council.

We have helped the states with their relief, roads and a lot of projects in the past and now they might turn around and help us.—Chairman Doughton, House Ways and Means Committee, urging state economy.

The public must be protected from exploitation.—Leon Henderson, price administrator.

America is not for Americans. America is for humanity.—Unidentified Cuban delegate to Rio conference.

• Looking Backward

• forty years ago.

Henry Lamm, of Sedalia and T. J. Akins of Humansville, are candidates for state chairman of the Republican Central committee. Lamm has been described as a practical man of much respectability and energy, with political experience.

The board of managers of the Sedalia City hospital met yesterday and examined several applicants for the positions of janitor and matron, to succeed Mr. and Mrs. Williams February 1. Mr. Douthitt was chosen for janitor and his wife for matron.

A delegation of prominent Missourians departed for Kentucky last night to urge the legislature of that state to make an appropriation for an exhibit and building at the St. Louis World's fair next year.

At today's meeting of the Ministers' Alliance reports were submitted regarding the Sunday services in the several churches, and Revs. Clippinger, Martin and Deboe, the latter colored, were appointed a committee on a church directory for the postoffice, depots, hotels and other public places, to report next Monday.

Describes Life In U. S. Navy

Life in the United States Navy was described to members of the Smith-Cotton high school class of 1940, by S. G. Drilling, chief machinists mate, U. S. N., and naval recruiting officer for this territory Monday night.

A short talk was given by Drilling, and motion pictures of the navy in action were exhibited in the S-C high school library. The young men present asked many questions which were answered by the officer.

Pamphlets describing the rate of pay and allowances for enlisted men in the U. S. navy were presented to those in attendance. Other booklets listed various training courses available to young men, including requirements for training in naval aviation schools.

Bridge-time treat—chocolate logs a la Karo

You'll agree—these are the easiest-to-make, most inexpensive "fancy" cooky treats you ever made.

2/3¢ each

CHOCOLATE LOGS

1/2 cup KARO (red label)
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate
1 (2-ounce) package chocolate sprinkles
1 square, one-egg cake (8" x 8" x 1/2" deep)

Place KARO and chocolate in saucepan; stir over low heat until chocolate is melted. Remove from heat, and stir until smooth. Cool. (If syrup becomes too thick for dipping, stir in 1 teaspoon boiling water.) Cut cake into logs, about 1/2 inch wide and 3 inches long. Dip logs into chocolate syrup, and roll in chocolate sprinkles. Place on rack to set. Makes 36 logs, 3" x 1/2" x 1/2".

CHOCOLATE MERINGUE PIE

made the Spry FULL FLAVOR way

8 ounces chocolate, cut in pieces
2 1/2 cups milk
3 tablespoons flour
8 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon butter
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 heaped Spry Pie Shell
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate in milk in double boiler and blend with rotary egg beater. Mix flour, cornstarch, sugar and salt. Add to chocolate mixture and cook 15 minutes, stirring constantly. The mixture should be thick and smooth. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook a few minutes longer. Add butter and vanilla. Cool.

Pour filling into baked pie shell. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add vanilla. Pile on filling. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 20 minutes, or until firm and delicately browned.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Eva Rutledge, of Wichita Falls, Texas, and A. P. Sands, 519 West Fourth street, this city. The wedding ceremony was performed in Oklahoma City Saturday, with a life-long friend of the bridegroom officiating.

The nuptial voyage preceded the couple's departure for an extended trip through the South. They will then establish homes, both in Sedalia and in Wichita Falls, and will divide their time between the two cities.

Mrs. Sands, a sister of Mrs. G. B. Cook of this city, has made her home in Wichita Falls for many years. She is a past matron and past grand officer for Faith chapter, Order Eastern Star, is an active member of the First Christian church and is prominent in the Women's Forum.

Mr. Sands is a retired business man.

The greatest thing to happen in all the history of medicine is the development by chemists and bacteriologists of the sulphadiazine, Dr. E. H. Hashinger, of Kansas City, professor of medicine at the University of Kansas, said in an address on "Sulfamidamide and Similar Drugs" given at Sorosis Monday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse.

Sulfamidamide, an amazingly strong agent in destroying bacteria, was first placed on the market in 1935. The drug was developed by English chemists and physicians, although it was originally noticed as a curative agent in the dye industry in Germany. It had been observed there that persons working with an orange staining dye had quick healing of any infections they might have, Dr. Hashinger said. However, its use as a drug was not developed, and it was later that the English experiments were made.

There are now six sulphadiazine drugs on the market. Effective cures of pneumonia, treatment of boils, mastoid and dysentery are some of the successful uses of the drugs.

Direct application of sulphadiazine drugs on wounds suffered in battles have brought gratifying relief. Sulpha drugs are administered as solutions, ointments, intravenously and by mouth.

Dr. Hashinger stated that he had learned that a number of doctors were killed in the raid on Pearl Harbor and that doctors in the service were immediately rushed from San Francisco and San Diego to Hawaii.

A general discussion followed Dr. Hashinger's talk.

Preceding the speaker's address Miss Nina Harris, president of Sorosis, read a communication on National Defense Savings.

Mrs. Grace Young, head of the public library staff, explained the Victory Book Campaign for soldiers. The nurse's aid corps was discussed by Miss McDermott, nurse's consultant from St. Louis, who was introduced by Mrs. Arthur Kahn, chairman of volunteer service for the Red Cross, and Mrs. J. C. Connor spoke on aid to crippled children.

Miss Katherine McVey, who is to be married January 31st to Mr. Robert Paydon of St. Louis, was honored Saturday evening with a miscellaneous shower-party by Miss Delia Bunn and Miss Nola Phillips at the home of Miss Bunn, 923 East Tenth.

Those present were: Mrs. W. H. Swift, Mrs. T. J. Bunn, Misses Catherine Lawson, Nellie McVey, Dora Siron, Mary Ann McGurran, Jeanne McVey, Nola Phillips and Delia Bunn.

Church Events

The Altar Society of Sacred Heart church will have a covered dish luncheon at the parish hall at 1:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Miss Lelia Shortridge and Mrs. Linden Lee Jones drove to Kansas City today to attend the Institute at St. Paul's Episcopal church for presidents and educational secretaries for the parish auxiliaries. Miss Shortridge is president and Mrs. Jones educational secretary of the auxiliary for Calvary church, this city.

They will also attend the fifty-third meeting of the women's auxiliary to the national council of the Episcopal church diocese of West Missouri, which will be held Wednesday at St. Paul's church.

State Engagement Report Erroneous

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rogers, route 1, Sedalia, in a statement to the Democrat this morning, stated that the notice in the Democrat-Capital Sunday of the engagement of their daughter, Helen Rogers, is erroneous.

Mrs. Rogers states her daughter is only fourteen years old, sophomore in high school. The notice and her picture, were sent to the paper they state by some young folks, who were of the belief it would be a joke, but which was anything but a prank to the persons involved.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

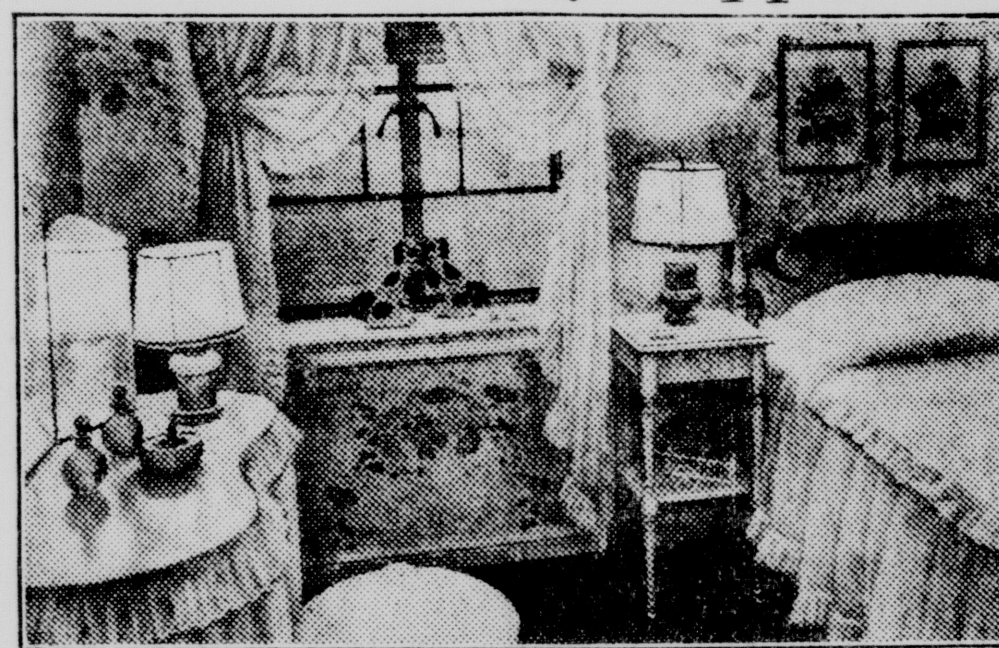

1. Is it a good idea to make the first move toward friendship?
3. It is polite to send a card or write a letter when one's friends have birthdays?
4. If you receive a birthday greeting from a friend should you write to thank him?
5. If you are told something in confidence is it all right to tell it, if you ask the persons you tell not to repeat it?

What would you do if—
A party at which you are a guest seems to be dull—
(a) Try to enliven it by telling a story, starting a new topic of conversation, or suggesting some kind of amusement?
(b) Feel that it is the hostess' job to make the party go?

Answers

1. No.
 2. No. Make the move yourself, if you want to make a new friend.
 3. Yes.
 4. Yes.
 5. No. Don't tell anyone.
- Better "What Would You Do?" solution—(a). A good guest feels responsible for a party's success.

How To Give Your Home Attractive New Eye-Appeal

Little Tricks That Make a Big Difference In Home Beauty

How many things are there in your home that you can pass by a dozen times a day—but don't see? Do you ever really see that picture hanging in the hall, which you bought years ago? The frame is perfect but why not try a new picture with new eye-appeal? And how long has it been since you changed the arrangement of the furniture? Probably not in years. Yet a simple rearrangement often makes a too familiar room seem strikingly new and alive again.

Let's take a look at the draperies. Notice the tie-backs. In millions of homes draperies are held back in the same way, with bands made of matching material. Now, here is a simple little trick that costs very little but may add a wealth of beauty to your draperies.

Get some artificial flowers that blend with your draperies, and make two bands of them. Use these garlands as tie-backs, and see how your family and friends praise your originality. And those painted walls that have become smudged! That drab wood work? The dull colors in the curtains. What can you do about them? Well the simplest and easiest way to give them life and beauty is with soap and water. You'll be surprised what a bath in safe, rich Rinso suds will do. Walls and woodwork will gleam and crisp clean curtains will brighten the whole room again. Modern soaps, like the New "Anti-Sneeze" Rinso can do wonders to freshen dingy rooms. Try this better than ever Rinso for your own soap-and-water tasks and you will be justly proud of the sparkling, shining results.

Sedalian's Grandson Is A Composer

Bill Demand, of Evanston, a grandson of Mrs. Edward Demand of 322 West Fifth street, does yeoman service for the navy literally and figuratively.

By day he works with the speaker's committee of the navy and by night he composes sweet music. Proceeds from the sale of the latter he donates to the navy relief society.

Friday night, January 30, Demand will be on hand to take a bow in the Edgewater Beach hotel dining room when his latest hit tune, "I Only Know" will be introduced to Chicago and the nation.

over the air by Russ Morgan, band leader and co-author. Sharing the spotlight will be Bill Bruns of Wilmette who contributed the lyrics to the ballad. Bruns, well known on the north shore for his work in amateur theatricals is a member of the Illinois Speaker's committee of the navy league.

"I Only Know" is not the first composition of Yeoman Demand's to be heard in Chicago. The theme song of Mayor Kelly's "Night of Stars" benefit program was also from his pen. It is a patriotic number entitled "For the Good Old U. S. A." and was formally introduced early last December by Kitty Carlisle in New York.

Here's one of my pet recipes —
"Tanqu Prune Dessert"
—and I make it best with my favorite flour, Pillsbury's Best!

Mrs. George Thurn

Cooking School Director

1. Sift and measure 1 1/2 cups Pillsbury's BEST Flour; add 2 1/2 tps. baking powder (or 1 1/2 tps. double-acting) and 1/2 tsp. salt; sift three times. The enrichment of Pillsbury's Best does not affect its appearance, flavor, or matchless richness of Pillsbury's Best. Add two important B-vitamins and iron you need every day. 2. Cream 1/4 c. shortening and 2 tps. grated lemon and together; add 1 c. baking quality, but adds two important B-vitamins and iron you need every day. 3. Add 2 eggs, well beaten; beat well. 4. Add dry ingredients alternately with 1/2 c. prune juice; mix well after each addition; beat well at end. (Did you ever see such light fluffy batter... such velvety smooth-sugar gradually; cream well. 5. Add 2 tps. Pillsbury's Best flour; mix well. 6. Bake in a well-greased 8x8x2-inch loaf pan in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 hour. 7. Cut in squares; serve warm or cold with a lemon sauce; then stand by for the loveliest, the tenderest, the most unusually flavored dessert you've ever tasted! Pillsbury's Best is made from only those choice fine wheats which give you moist tender cakes that stay fresh... pastry rich, crisp, and flaky... bread that's golden-topped, even-grained. With Pillsbury's Best you take no chances. It's the flour you can depend on for everything you bake!

WELCOME To Hotel Bothwell

We are complimented that Mrs. George Thurn nationally known food authority and lecturer on homemaking chose the Hotel Bothwell for her home while in Sedalia conducting the Democrat-Capital Cooking School. We know that Mrs. Thurn is a master in the culinary arts, and knowing good foods as she does, we are greatly appreciative of the fine things she has said of our food and service.

New! Different! Delicious!
Bran Bread Filled with Luscious Chopped Prunes

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN PRUNE BREAD

2 cups Kellogg's All-Bran
2/3 cup juice from cooked prunes
2/3 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon shortening
1/3 cup chopped nutmeats (optional)

1 egg
1 1/4 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons soda
2/3 cup chopped cooked prunes

Soak All-Bran in juice drained from prunes and buttermilk. Cream sugar and shortening thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Add All-Bran mixture.

Sift flour with salt and soda and add to first mixture with prunes. Stir only until flour disappears. Bake in a greased loaf pan in a moderate oven (325° F.) 1 hour and 20 minutes.

Yield: 1 loaf (9 1/2 x 5 1/2 inch pan).

Not only is this the most delicious bran bread you ever tasted, but it's good for you, too.

Several slices of this bread will make a distinct addition to what doctors call "bulk" in the diet—and so help to combat one of the commonest kinds of constipation.

Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly—either as a cereal or in bread or muffins, drink plenty of water, and "join the regulars."

Serial Story . . .

Tambay Gold

.... By Samuel Hopkins Adams

Copyright 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Mom Baumer sets up "Feederia" lunch wagon at Tambay Plantation, former tourist camp partnership with Judd and Judd. Last of the Maurens, Judd tells Mom she has been married to wealthy Henderson Kent. Other characters: Loren Oliver, Welliver U. prof. digging for Indian relics; Old Swaby, Slovene refugee; "Doc" Oliver is harboring; Duff, Mom's pet skunk; lawyer Maurice Sears and football star Angel Todd, both in love with Judd. Sheriff Hollister Mowry thinks Oliver is after gold at Tambay. Judd, ill after a lynching at the Hanging Tree, tells Maurice Sears she will leave Tambay if it ever happens again. Angel picks a fight with "Doc," whose course he is flunking.

DOC SAYS "FORGET IT"

CHAPTER XVII

WE got Doc up the bank to his cabin, and a job it was. He put up a squawk about my undressing him, so I chased Judd over to the house for bandages and hot water.

"Keep slipping Angel and shooting your left, huh?" I said. He sort of grunted.

"That's a boxer's trick," I said. "You never learned that stuff, digging Wandos, Doc."

"I used to box some in college. It isn't necessary to say anything about this outside, Mom," he said. "There's a couple of ribs wrong, by my guess," I said. "It's a doctor's job."

Judd came in just then. "I'll drive him over to Dr. Starrows," she said.

She had him back in an hour, strapped up neatly. When she came to my room there were those small lines between her eyes that always made me think of a baby in trouble.

"I don't believe it was Angel's fault," she said. "There's something queer about it. Loren told the doctor he lost his way in the fog and fell over the cliff."

"Uh-huh," I said. "And what did Doc have to say to you, himself?"

"Nothing. He wouldn't talk."

"Maybe Angel can get away with it yet," I said. I didn't care whether he did or not, except that I was half afraid Judd would follow him if he got canned out of Welliver. "I believe Doc is figuring it's had medicine, getting into a scrap with one of his own students. Undignified and all that. So it'd be to his own interest to keep it dark."

"It's a bright and shining thought," Judd said. "My theory is I'd better see Angel before he gets any deeper in the soup."

NEXT morning we caught Angel at Welliver early. He spoke up, light and airy as a breeze. "Better pack the keister, honey," he said. "Mr. and Mrs. Allan A.

Todd will be northward bound in search of a job my pronto, followed by the boots but not the good wishes of the faculty."

"Perhaps you're not leaving."

"After last night? What an optimist!"

"Wait and see. You haven't told anyone, have you?"

"No. But what's the use? They're not going to believe that I got these alterations to my map at a church social."

"My theory is," she said, "that your car tipped over and rolled down a bank."

"Yeah? And what's Oliver's theory? How's he feeling?"

"It's about time you asked," I said. "We had to take him to a doctor."

"He told me to be on my way, so I thought he was okay. Who'd-a believed he could put up such a scrap? Come to think of it, I did hear he played football at Penn."

"Chess," I said.

"Skip it!" Judd said, quite cross.

"He'll get me, all right. He feels I've insulted his pet Wandos. And he's the kind that never lets up on a grudge. Look at that snapping-turtle face."

"I think he's got rather a nice face," Judd said, and then looked kind of surprised at herself.

For a week after that Judd was absent-minded. I wondered if she didn't have Angel and the fight on her mind. Not a word out of Doc on the subject though. But he did ask me whether Judd wasn't feeling well. Not much got past that bird.

"She'd feel better," I told him. "If she knew whether you're going to be a sport or not."

"Definitions differ," he said.

"Are you reporting Angel Todd?" I asked him.

"Oh, that! That's a private matter. Besides, I hit him first."

"Sure!" I said. "And the ant soaked the elephant in the puss for making faces at him."

"When you know you've got to fight, it's the best plan," he said, passing up my crack. "Tell Todd that unless he talks, I certainly shan't."

When I passed that on to Judd, she said, "I'd like to kiss Loren Oliver if I didn't think it would scare him out of a year's growth."

NEXT term's prospects didn't look too favorable for Angel. The Examining Board sidestepped by returning his Am. Eth. paper, marked "Unsatisfactory." That handed him the exam to take over again, and on top of it gave him the whole term's class work to make up.

"They had a right to go easy on a team man," he said. "Balestier does, and all the other schools. Look! We football men have a lot of extra work wished on us. Besides practice. Brain work. Blackboard exercises. Learning the combinations. Most of the profs are reasonable. But not Oliver."

"His course isn't so hard if you really work at it, Angel," Judd said.

"Maybe not for you. I've got no appetite for dead injuns. And besides the class work and the exam, I've got to write a thesis."

"There's an idea!" She said. "Loren Oliver's report on his excavations must be up by this time. Why don't you write your thesis on the Tambay discoveries?"

Angel quite brightened up to it. He confided to me that he was going to lick Oliver's Wandos, and get hold of some money, and then he guessed Judd would marry him.

Football practice started in before fall term opened. The talk was that Angel Todd was showing more stuff than ever. I've always been a grid fan; so I'd slip away occasionally to get a line on the team. I thought I might lay a few smart bets on the big game, which was against Balestier.

The Wellivers looked good to me. They were long and rangy, except in the middle of the line where they had plenty of beef. They coasted through their early games, showing plenty against light opposition, until they met Harstrom College.

Well, every coach knows there are days when a whole team goes sour for no reason at all. The sketch that our boys put on against a bunch at least five touchdowns below them in form was a vaudeville skit.

Was Angel sunk when he came over to dinner?

"I was just as bad as any of them," he said. "Coach ought to can us all and buy a new team."

"He hasn't got the price," I told him. "And it's goofy for a man of your age to go teary over not winning one little game."

"Winning games is my business," he said. "How else am I ever going to get anywhere?"

If Oliver if I didn't think it would scare him out of a year's growth."

Judd produced her Onward Christian Soldiers act. "I've got confidence in you, Angel, if you haven't in yourself. Want me to prove it?"

"How?"

Men Of Conquest

Hitler and Napoleon have been likened because of their parallel drives and retreats in Moscow, although Hitler failed to reach Moscow, while Napoleon did. Do you recall those items about these two men of conquest?

1. Hitler's birthday is April 20. How old will he be? When was he first named chancellor of Germany?

2. How old was Napoleon when he became Emperor of France; when he died?

3. Is Schicklgruber Hitler's real name? What was Napoleon's last name?

4. What three islands played important parts in Napoleon's life and where are they?

5. How long after his retreat from Moscow was Napoleon defeated at Waterloo?

Solomon Islands May Be Engulfed by Pacific War

WAR in the Pacific, which expands to new lands daily, may soon engulf the little-known Solomon Islands. The islands may be used as bases for Japanese attack on New Guinea or Australia.

The stamp above, issued in 1908, pictures a swift native war canoe. Canoes are still expertly chipped from logs in small shipyards. It is an art that has been handed down from the days when the natives hunted, fished, and warred among themselves before the coming of the white man.

Although the coming of the white men—missionaries, scientists, and anthropologists—has had a tempering effect on the attitude of the natives, there was a time when arrival of white visitors had but one meaning: slavery. Slave traders, known as "blackbirders," had long been busy in their bloody trade at the islands.

When the slave trade was wiped out the natives were still vindictive toward white men and the first missionaries to touch their shores were killed.

In 1893 several of the islands were annexed by Great Britain. Those taken over by Germany were mandated to Australia after World War I.

Mount McKinley National Park in Alaska was visited by 1201 persons in 1940.

Wheat Advances As Corn Declines

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—All grain futures except oats shot up smartly at the opening today on the passage of the price fixing bill by the house, but profit taking sales and operations of a hedging character in corn soon reversed the trend and extreme gains were reduced by half or more.

Wheat and rye advanced around a cent to the best levels in five years. The downturn was influenced in part by weakness of rye and soybeans and by the fact that present price levels offered at least a moderate profit in the redemption of loan wheat.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 3/8 cents under yesterday's final levels, with the extreme losses in the deferred deliveries. May $13.27, July $13.44; corn was unchanged to 1/4 cent lower, May 90 1/2 to 90 3/4, July 92 1/4 to 92 3/4; oats lost 1/4 to 3/8 cents; rye 1/4 to 1/2 cent and hard 2 1/2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds.

Name Officials For Special Election

The judges and clerks to serve at a special election to be held at LaMonte next month were announced Monday by the Pettis county court. The election will be held Saturday, February 14, for the purpose of voting on a tax levy, the proceeds of which would be used for road and bridge building and improvement purposes in that area.

Oliver Sevier has been appointed to serve as clerk at the election, and Harry McCune and Clyde Hefflinger as judges. LaMonte citizens will vote at the city hall there.

Next month is the month you pay 30 days' rent for 28 days.

You better keep inflation in mind—so your tires don't wear out quicker from lack of it.

Registrants For Selective Service To Have Choice

A Selective Service registrant, at the forthcoming February 16 registration of men in the military service age bracket of 20 to 45 years old, who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence to designate the local board that always will have jurisdiction over him, Lt. Colonel Claude C. Earp, state director of Selective Service for Missouri, said today.

The director emphasized, however, that no transient address may be recorded and that Selective Service regulations prohibit any interference or dictation by a registrar when a registrant who has more than one place of residence is making his choice as to which he desires recorded as his home address.

"It is the intent of the law and the purpose of Selective Service regulations," Director Earp asserted, "that each man be registered at his home address and be subject to call to fill quotas from that local board. That is a basic principle of democratic procedure and we expect every Selective Service registrant in the state of Missouri to adhere strictly to it."

May List Choice
Registration cards to be used February 16 will contain a space for the registrant to list his place of residence. In the event that he has more than one place, he is required to list his own choice as his place of residence.

In addition, the registration card will have space for recording a mail address. This may be the same as the place of residence or it may be another address where the registrant will receive his mail more readily.

Selective Service regulations also require each registrant to describe the place of his residence so that its location may be determined from its description. A resident who lives on an RFD route which goes through two states will be required to indicate the location of his residence, rather than his mailing address. For this reason, and because some registrants may be able to receive their mail more readily at an address other than their place of residence, the registration card has spaces for both addresses.

A description of the place of residence of the registrant, the director stressed, will once and for all time determine the local board that will have jurisdiction over the registrant. The mailing address, however, can be changed when necessary and local boards will send their notices to the mailing addresses without regard to place of residence. While the mailing address is subject to change whenever the registrant moves, the director pointed out, registrants are instructed to warn the registrant that once he designates his place of residence he irrevocably designates the local board which will have continuous jurisdiction over him.

Sugar Rations May Be Less

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson said last night that initial sugar rations may be restricted to no more than three quarters of a pound a week.

Announcement was made last Saturday that rationing of sugar would begin some time in February. At the time, officials said each person's allowance would be 50 pounds a year, or approximately a pound a week.

Henderson explained today, however, that part of the per capita average of 50 pounds a year would be consumed by per-

Mail Carriers In Installation

Members And Auxiliary To Do Patriotic Work

The local chapter of the National Association of Letter Carriers and its auxiliary met in regular session Monday night at the V. F. W. hall.

The carriers installed their officers for the year 1942, who are: President, Champ Richardson; vice-president, James Myers; secretary, Homer Jones; treasurer, Charles Plumlee; sergeant-at-arms, Elliott Hammond.

These officers were pledged enthusiastic support by the group, realizing the need for unity in all bodies, large or small, to further the best interests in this critical period.

Civilian defense in all its phases formed the main theme of the evening's discussion, the welfare of the county being uppermost in everyone's mind. The group as a whole has registered for a class in first aid given by the Red Cross.

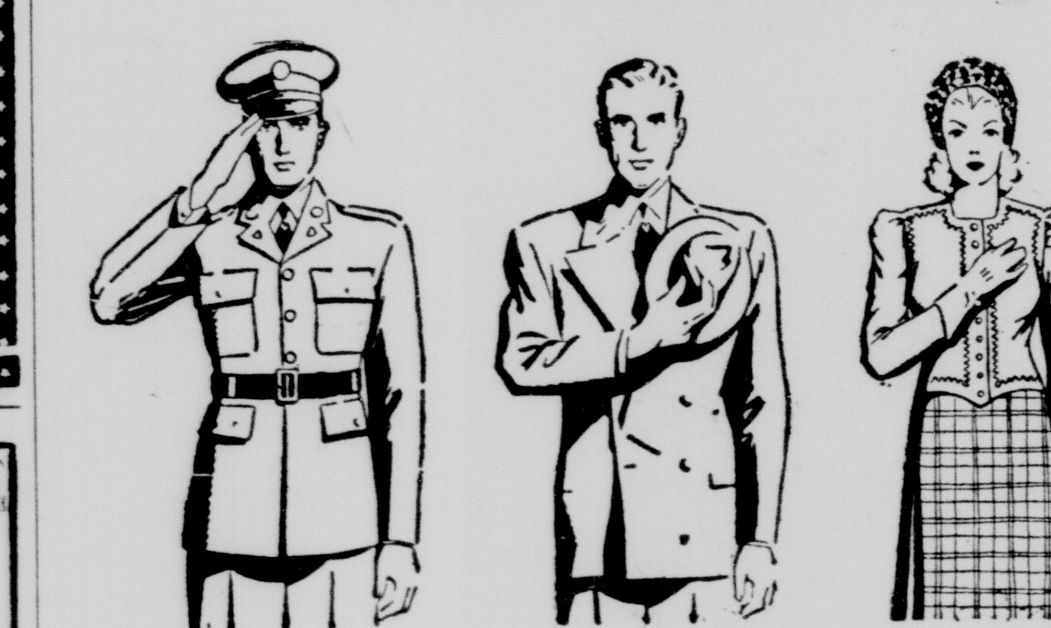

Messages To Auxiliary
The auxiliary received messages from the state president, Mrs. Adele Meyer, St. Louis, and the president of the national organization, Mrs. Margaret McDonald, Chicago. It was agreed to offer the services of the auxiliary as a body to the American Red Cross in the making of surgical dressings, Wednesday of each week. Many individual members have been doing this work, but they decided to give their services as a group where possible.

Attending the meeting were, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Weinrich, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brummett, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Champ Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Linden Lee Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holst, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. Charles Gamber, Mrs. Emma Schaefer, Mrs. Freda Belle Buckley, Eugene Butterwick, Everett Kemp, James Myers.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses of the evening who were, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Gamber and Mrs. Holst.

Every Patriotic American Salutes His Nation's Flag

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention and salute.

Those present in uniform should render the right hand salute.

Those men not in uniform should remove their headdress with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart.

Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart.

The salute to the flag in a moving column is rendered as the flag approaches the spectator and is held until it has passed.

British Wheat Be Sent Greece

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Britain has authorized shipment of 8,000 tons of wheat to Greece to help relieve a threatened famine, it was announced today in the House of Commons by Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare.

He said there was no guarantee that the Germans would not seize the wheat but added:

"We are in this case running the risk in view of the appalling conditions, caused by the Germans in Greece."

Distribution of the wheat to be supervised by the International Red Cross, he said.

He said Britain's general policy of refusing to allow shipments to be made to axis dominated countries remained unchanged.
